Simple steps to solar

Step 1: Research

Find out your property's solar potential. We offer an interconnection viability map online, plus a tool to find a contractor.

Step 2: Apply to connect

Work with your contractor to submit an interconnection application requesting to connect your system with PECO's smart grid.

Step 3: Install and enjoy

Have a qualified contractor install your system. Once you have Permission to Operate from PECO, you can start generating energy and receive net metering credits.

Step 4: Apply for PECO rebate

Eligibility for PECO's $500 solar rebate

Every solar project goes through a similar step-by-step process. The following requirements must be met to qualify:

- ✓ Your Interconnection Application must be completed and approved. If not, visit peco.com/Solar to get started.
- ✓ Installation details for each solar panel must be completed.
- ✓ Solar panels must be installed at a residence that currently receives PECO residential electric service.
- ✓ Solar rebate will only be paid for approved interconnection applications once the system is In Service.
- ✓ Rebates must be submitted within 90 days from the In Service date.
- ✓ You can apply for the rebate by submitting an online application, or mail or email the application PDF.
- ✓ If the rebate application is approved, you should receive your $500 rebate check within 4–6 weeks, after the In Service status.
